Wat Tha Sung

Wat Tha Sung is one the most beautiful temple in Thailand. It is also called the diamond temple. This is because each pillar is decorated by thousands of mosaic tiles made of mirror. They do reflect light and create a shiny effect like a diamond.

A country full of colour

This is another mosaic decoration that can be found on the wall or on the door frame in Wat Tha Sung. It is a combination of several colours and shapes of mosaic tiles to re-create traditional thai painting.

Naga

This is another temple we visited in 2019. This temple is built on the top of the mountain which required us to climb 449 steps to go to the top. You might notice that both sides of these steps have a mythical creature called a 'Naga' which is a big snake with three heads! Buddhism is highly influenced by Hinduism which is probably one of the oldest religions on earth. Naga is a symbol of strength and rejuvenation.

Chom Phon Cave

Chom Phon cave is a very big cave. The air condition inside the cave is not hot because there is a crater for air ventilation at the centre of the cave. The cave size is 30 meters wide and 25 meters long. It is one of the beautiful stalactite caves in Thailand.

Kao Chon Waterfall

There are 9 levels to see at Kao Chon waterfall, each level is different. The higher level, the more challenging on the terrain. In the picture was the level 1. We went up to level 3 on this trip as Sophita was quite young at the time.
